

Sources of International Social Statistics

Standard Note: SN/SG/03140
Last updated: 15 January 2010
Author: Kathryn Keith
Social and General Statistics

This note describes the various sources of international social statistics held in the Library or available online. Detailed sources for the UK are covered in the Library Standard Note Social statistics: key sources.ⁱ

The note represents a self-help guide, providing a starting point for people interested in obtaining international statistics for themselves. The sources detailed are not intended to be exhaustive: in each instance, more information should be yielded by further investigation by the user. Contact details of Library staff dealing with different areas of social statistics appear in Section A. Economic statistics are dealt with by the Economic Policy and Statistics Section: contact details can be found in the regular Economic Indicators Research Paper which is available from the Library or via the intra- and internet.

Increasingly, data sources are available online. Links to relevant websites and publications are contained within the text of the report, with footnotes detailing the web addresses for hard copy readers in Section F. As far as possible links lead to parent web pages, from which the user can navigate to the specific area they require.

The links in the report lead primarily to English-language versions of national statistical websites. In many instances, the English websites contain less detailed information than the home-language versions and in some cases there is no English translation available. The Library maintains a list of staff with language skills: for assistance with translations please contact Derby Gate Library on x6767.

Where there is no online access, the Library's hard copy holdings are instead detailed.

While at the time of printing all hyperlinks should be current, the fluid nature of online data means that some of these links may from time to time become out of date. If you experience any problems connecting to a document, please inform the Statistics Resource Unit via hclsru@parliament.uk

Section B provides individual country profiles for the Member States of the EU, in Section C a brief overview of the statistical holdings of the US and in Section D there is a selection of other countries.
