

BRIEFING PAPER

Number 04731, 29 March 2021

MPs appointed to the Chiltern Hundreds or Manor of Northstead stewardships since 1895

Compiled by Sarah Priddy

Why can't a Member of Parliament resign?

Under a Resolution of the House of 2 March 1623, Members of Parliament cannot directly resign their seats. Death, disqualification, elevation to Peerage, dissolution or expulsion are the only causes by which a Member's seat can be vacated. Therefore, an MP wishing to resign has to be appointed to a paid office of the Crown which automatically disqualifies the Member from holding a seat in the House of Commons.

There are currently two nominal offices of profit under the Crown:

- Crown Steward and Bailiff of the three Chiltern Hundreds of Stoke, Desborough and Burnham;
- Crown Steward and Bailiff of the Manor of Northstead.

MPs can be appointed to these offices during a parliamentary recess, but the Speaker cannot issue a writ for the ensuing by-election until the House is sitting.

Sometimes a vacancy towards the end of a Parliament may not be filled until the General Election.

See Erskine May: Chiltern Hundreds and Manor of Northstead for statutory basis and footnotes giving precedents.

Further information on its historical context can be found in the Commons Library briefing: Resignation from the House of Commons.

*Date: Date refers to the date of appointment to the Office of Chiltern Hundreds, or Manor of Northstead as noted in the Treasury Register

NB: In many cases, the disqualification of an MP (by acceptance of an office of profit under the Crown), is not recorded directly in the Common Journal. It has only recently become practice to record the appointment of a Member to such an office in the Journal. Prior to this, disqualification can only be inferred from the writ moved for the resulting by-election. Disqualification of Members first noted in the Commons Journal in the 1985-86 session.

About the Library

The House of Commons Library research service provides MPs and their staff with the impartial briefing and evidence base they need to do their work in scrutinising Government, proposing legislation, and supporting constituents.

As well as providing MPs with a confidential service we publish open briefing papers, which are available on the Parliament website.

Every effort is made to ensure that the information contained in these publically available research briefings is correct at the time of publication. Readers should be aware however that briefings are not necessarily updated or otherwise amended to reflect subsequent changes.

If you have any comments on our briefings please email papers@parliament.uk. Authors are available to discuss the content of this briefing only with Members and their staff.

If you have any general questions about the work of the House of Commons you can email hcinfo@parliament.uk.
